DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Figure 1 in the reply filed on July 20, 2005 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that an addition of opening means and positioning applicator tip on the close and/ or open side of the tube does not separate Figures 2, 3, and 4 from the elected species, Figure 1. This is not found persuasive because the hollow tube with the applicator tip affixed to the open end of the tube, of Figure 1, may contain fluid without said opening means, therefore dispersing the fluid via the open portion of the tube into the applicator. By adding an opening or changing the position of the applicator tip from the open to close end or both, fluid may be added or emptied into the hollow tube via the said opening, and the means for dispersing of fluid would be altered, therefore, creating an independent search of the non-elected species for the examiner.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

2. Claims 3, and 6-20 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on July 20, 2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Art Unit: 3761

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1,2, 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Bennington (3958571). Bennington teaches a swab applicator comprising an elongated hollow tube open at end with absorbent secured thereto, and an enclosed end adjacent to the open end. The applicator contains a solution to be delivered within the hollow tube. (Column 1, lines 52-64).

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Foster et al (3661666) and Rainin (5599330) are both applicators relevant to the application.
